WOMEN BUILT TO FIGHT The BravinLee gallery hosts a reception to celebrate the opening of the "Vogue Series," an exhibit of works on paper by Marcia Kure. Ms. Kure's technique is inspired by the ancient cave drawings of southern Africa and the Uli wall murals of Nigeria. In this show, Ms. Kure depicts a small army of voluminous female figures using pigment derived from the West African kola nut. The images evoke glamour, even as they present a commentary on the impersonal sexuality of fashion and advertising. Through Friday, July 13, Tuesday–Saturday, 10 a.m.–6 p.m., BravinLee, suite 211, 526 W. 26th St., between Tenth and Eleventh avenues, 212-462-4404, free.
